Fanfare, parade marks Shrine Temple inaugural

Robert Coleman of Bay St. Louis, recorder, assisted in officiating at the inaugural ceremonies of Joppa, Mississippi's newest Shrine Temple, on Saturday, in Biloxi.

Approximately 300 candidates were initiated into the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, a fraternal order dedicated to the support of crippled childrens hospitals and burns institutes.

The occasion marked the first time such a ceremony was administered in Mississippi in 65 years. The last such happening occurred in 1912 when Wahabi Temple was chartered in Jackson.

Joppa Temple received its dispensation from the Imperial Council of the Shrine on July 78, wherein shriners from 12 counties were involved including: Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Pearl River, Stone, George, and Green, under its exclusive jurisdiction. Marion and Walthall counties are shared with Wahabi Temple, and Forrest, Perry and Lamar counties are shared with Jamasa Temple, Meridian.

A full-scale parade took place in Gulfport on Saturday, with units from temples both in and out of the state participating.

Initiation of candidates took place in the Broadwater Beach, Hilton, and Sheriton Hotels, later sites of inaugural

Waveland mayor adds to farm disaster plea

In letter to governor Railroad Avenue in Bay St. Louis, at least that area across from the old Louisville and Nashville Railroad depot may soon be in for a massive facelift, at least if the plans of Mayor Larry Bennett come to pass.

Bennett revealed this week that contact had been made with the L&N concerning the sale or lease of the old depot and surrounding parkland to the city for conversion into a public gardens and museum complex.

A letter from L.L. Bell, superintendent, Mobile Division, L&N, put down the suggestion.

"Your request has been reviewed and due to the fact that we use this facility as an agency for railroad business and also this building has been used during times of hurricanes as headquarters, therefore, we do not desire to dispose of this property by lease or sale," Bell's letter in part read.

The mayor said he did not agree with the findings stating that all emergency equipment belonging to the Civil

Last Monday, Bienville Community farmer Clarence Lee appeared before the supervisors seeking their endorsement of the disaster declaration measure.

The supervisors, promptly agreed to the request, also forwarding their resolution to the governor and Washington.

Lee next sought the approval of the Hancock County Farm Bureau, who promised instead to call for an update and review of previously submitted material now held in Jackson.

Lee, when addressing the supervisors, said the county had received no measurable rainfall between May 2 and July 3, and this drought had "wiped out" the corn and water melon producers, and seriously hampered soybean, grain, and feeder crops.

He said that the county emergency committee submitted a program to

Space tests ok as pickets man lines at NSTL

by JAKE JACOB
Space Shuttle development and test work was not affected this week at NASA-NSTL, following a wildcat strike by International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local No. 903, although some members of other on-site unions did honor the picket lines.

Personnel movement was made easier, Thursday afternoon, at which time NASA instituted a two-gate policy.

The strike, according to the picket signs, was against Boraco Electrical Co., subcontractors to Greenhut Construction Co., under contract with the Corps of Engineers, to build a $2.5 million Navy oceanographic building at NSTL.

The signs claimed Boraco does not abide by area standards and does not recognize craft jurisdiction.

Pickets, withdrawn Thursday, were back on the line Friday prior to the arrival of the main NSTL work force.

The union claims no dispute with any other contractor at the site.

No report of settlement of the dispute had been received by Saturday morning.

Get To Know Him...

Many people, unfortunately, give little or no thought to the selection of a funeral director until his services are needed. Then this important decision must be made suddenly, without sufficient time for investigation or comparison. For this reason, we earnestly recommend that some thought be given to this matter in advance. It is not morbid to do this—merely good, common sense.

One safe guide to follow is the same method used to judge the capabilities of any business or professional man. Another is the recommendation of friends. Then there are such explicit points as his standing in the community; the type of funeral home he maintains; his ability to render intelligent and understanding service.

The person you will some day rely on for a very personal and intimate service will welcome the opportunity to discuss funeral service and funeral costs with you. Your investigation of all that he has to offer will cause no embarrassment either to you or to him, and you will be under no obligation whatsoever.

Drainage problems

Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County rural areas have had their share of drainage problems during the recent rainy season. We are not the only ones with these problems as our neighbors to the East will testify.

Drainage is something with which every community in our nation has to contend.

Two of the reasons for having such a problem in our communities are improper planning from a period before most of us were born, and lack of elevation.

Without much spending, very little can be done to correct the situation.

One of the principal causes we can see is that a lot of ditches are overgrown with weeds, grass, trees, and so forth, acting as a haven for all debris, clogged culverts, also add their share of trouble.

It is a proven fact that water flows much faster when drainage is free of the above items.

It is expensive, we realize, to clean these ditches, but the damage caused by sluggish drainage costs more in repairs to streets, etc.

A drive through Bay St. Louis and parts of the county on Thursday proved that on roads with clear ditches and open culverts, water was receding faster.

We don't have to tell you or our officials which drainage needs cleaning up, because anybody can drive down the streets and see for themselves.

Until a time when monies can be obtained that will enable our officials to correct the inefficiencies they could try and keep the drainage and culverts free of weeds, grass, trees and debris.

You as a citizen, can help too by doing your share, if you are able, by keeping the grass down in front of your property.

The combined effort by officials and the public does not offer a complete solution - but it can help.

We had an opportunity on a fishing trip Friday, at the mouth of Pearl River, to see a sight which we haven't seen in years. We saw a flock of 12 Pelicans in leisure flight. They must have been part of those being used to restock Louisiana marshes. Man can remember the days when very piling in the Bay had a pelican as a visitor.

Hancock County farmers are trying hard to get crop support because of weather damages. We city folks would be surprised to see just how many acres in Hancock County are planted in crops. It is important to farmers to get some support because of damaged by weather.

Many of us fail to think of the importance of our Constitution. The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution should be commended on their efforts in reminding us of the importance of the Constitution during Constitution week.

We don't know which 'crystal ball'

Randy Ponder uses to get his football picks, but he sure put it to the rest of us last weekend. As guest Ronald Thomas said, "He knows something that the rest of us don't."

In football most of us think about High School, College and Professional. We seem to have forgotten a very important group of footballers and that is the Elementary and Junior High players. We can help them by showing our support in attendance at games in our communities. A football player, like a baseball player has to learn young in order to be a star in High School.

Letters to the Editor

Street repairs

The Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

In reply to the letter to the Editor in the Thursday, September 15, 1977 edition of the Sea Coast Echo, I would like to point out the following:

The City is well aware that the patch jobs that we must conduct to maintain pot-holes are not the most ideal. In view of the excessive amounts of rainy weather these patch jobs will deteriorate at a much faster rate than when the weather is dry.

The rainy season disrupts the streets and roads and forces us to go ahead and try to make the repairs as soon as possible, but without a series of dry weather days behind it, deterioration sets in even faster.

As long as these weather conditions prevail we, the City and its citizens, will be faced with even more patch jobs and we ask that you bear with us until more revenue can be brought in to correctly renovate the streets with proper construction, equipment, and crews.

Beach clean-up

Letter to The Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Open Apology to Mrs. Barbara Moody

Dear Sir:

Although I could easily walk down the street to your house, introduce myself and apologize to you personally, I feel this message should be made public, because I believe that this letter reflects the attitude of many of your neighbors.

I apologize for the Letter to the Editor published in the Sea Coast Echo on Sept. 15, suggesting that if you want the beach cleaned you should find a new area to live.

As a resident of Waveland for only a year, I have discovered, as you will also, that this is the friendliest, most helpful and kind community you could coo to live in. You will meet them at the drug store, the super market, at school and at church. They'll make you feel at home. They'll help you with all the little problems of being "new in town." Oh yes, there may be one or two who dissent, but you will find the great majority are the nicest, people you could meet anywhere.

Very truly yours,
Audrey Comeaux

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis, MS.

Dear Sir:

I became rather upset after reading this morning's paper, particularly a letter to the Editor in response to my letter about the beach clean-up. Why? Because for the past month I've been saying that everyone I've met and come in contact with has been so friendly and nice and welcomed us into the town. But then, I haven't met this particular gentleman.

I beg to differ with the gentleman about first impressions being everlasting. It would indeed, be a very sad world to live in if this were the case. It's quite obvious that he is against any "out-of-towners" moving in. Well, Sir, 95 percent of the people I've met (and I've met many) are not true "natives;" in fact, I don't believe anyone on my street is. So, what is your point? Are you against any form of criticism or ONLY by "newcomers?"

I would like to say that my "first impression" of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland area was lovely and it still is. But, that doesn't mean I won't ever criticize. Thank God we live in a democracy where criticism is tolerated and freedom of speech is our most precious right. Your letter, Sir, in direct criticism of me, was printed, wasn't it?

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Barbara Moody
P.S. I received several calls agreeing with me about the beach. I might add it has been cleaned up and a trash container placed in an accessible spot.

Why to metric?

Dear Sir:

America is the greatest nation on earth and or mathematical system has stood us in good stead these many years.

Do you know: all speed, mileage, distance, clearance, bridges, on U.S. Highways will have to be changed to the Metric System?

All speed signs, all distances to the next "foreign city" will be given in Kilometers; and since American to metric measurements have no comparables they are not precisely correlated - such a horror - Imagine the mess in a kitchen.

Then since 55 miles per hour computerizes out at 88.5 kilometers per hour, that wouldn't make a good speed sign. The posted equivalent is to be rounded off at 90 kilometers per hour. Then all meat and poultry will be labeled from pounds to ounces to kilograms - grams & cubic centimeters (a 3 inch thick, 6 pound steak will be labeled 75 millimeters thick weight 2.73 kilos)

Easy to compute - nothing converts completely or accurately. a meter is longer than a yard - a kilogram is a little bit heavier than 2 lbs - while a kilometer is less than a mile.

Get an avid metric person to convert 2" x 4" or 2 x 6 to metric (that is the measurement of wood used in construction).

A real nightmare!

How about land measurements - it will be hectares - remember all the maps, plats, deeds will be obsolete. Also 2,000 lbs. a ton.

I give up - But I could go on and on. Save us - It's too much.

Sincerely
Odile Rauxet Carter

Washington report

By TONY LOTT

HECTIC ACTIVITY CONTINUES IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, D.C. - As the 95th Congress returned to Washington last week after three weeks in our districts, we were confronted by a hectic schedule. Much remains undone, but then there was much to do when we launched this session last January.

The House already has taken up many pieces of legislation with a direct impact on the Fifth Congressional District, such as the National Energy Act of 1977 and creation of a new Cabinet-level Department of Energy. Of course, the most intensive debate on the energy bill now has shifted to the Senate, where I hope sanity will prevail over expediency.

The House approved an energy bill that I could not support because it carried broad new taxing and regulation schemes unprecedented in American history, and I hope the Senate will clean up the mess.

Other issues are also awaiting congressional action, including one of extreme public interest - the proposed new Panama Canal treaties. The Senate has the duty of voting on ratification of the treaties, but according to my research the House might also play a role. The U.S. Constitution places on both houses of the Congress the responsibility of voting on whether federal property should be given up.

Some of the major provisions of these new treaties include the following: The transfer in phases from the U.S. to Panama of full control by noon, December 31, 1999; phasing out of U.S. military bases in the canal zone during the same period; an immediate increase in payments to Panama from $2.3 million to $10 million annually, with an additional $10 million yearly to be paid if toll revenues permit; transfer of more than half of the 648-mile Canal Zone to Panama almost immediately, with additional territory to be transferred over a period of time.

I have long contended that the canal belongs to America, not Panama, and the implications of giving it away now are enormously serious. For one thing, the Panamanian dictatorship is a fragile one and the country has historically changed governments swiftly and violently. There is also the defense consideration, that the canal is the jugular vein to the Western Hemisphere and is the only water link between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

We need to control this canal for a variety of commercial and military reasons. I will continue to oppose efforts to relinquish control.

Other emotional issues also face Congress. One of my primary concerns is the state of the social security program, which has been saddled with many peripheral burdens in recent years. As a result, the solvency of the program is in question and the Congress must work quickly to stop the erosion.

Still other issues involve banning federally-funded abortions and limiting or barring benefits to veterans with undesirable discharges. It looks as though Congress will have its hands full in the weeks ahead.

about that time."

Mayor Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis said on Friday that he would lend his support to any effort required in having the disaster declaration made.

"The economy of the farmer affects all business in this county."

"As I see it these hard working people are not asking for any hand out from government, simply for low interest loans to enable them to make a fresh start."

"If they do not get this money they may face personal loss in equipment and effects, as most have been forced into the borrowing market for seed, planting, equipment, and expensive chemicals."

"As payments traditionally fall due at harvest time these people will be in dire straits by mid-November unless action is taken to provide this relief."

"This city will certainly endorse whatever measure is necessary to acquire these Farmers Home Administration loans," Bennett said.

Supervisor Jimmy Travirca said had the crop not been ruined by one thing or another it represented a $2 million gross sale harvest this year. He estimated earlier this week that farmers would be lucky to get half that amount.

Leetown farmers James Rester and Frank Lee told reporters this week that the situation is one of the worst in memory.

Another worry to bean producers is the fact that due to the increased plantings, terminals stand a chance of reaching full load capacity thus leaving farmers with no place to take what beans are salvaged.

Farmers also face low per bushel prices because of high production, probably about $5 per bushel, close to the break-even point for many farmers, it was reported on Thursday.

Lee allowed that it costs Hancock County farmers $130 an acre to take the soybeans to the elevator, "...and we will be lucky to sell our crop at $75 an acre."

"If we manage to get that price we will still be $25 an acre short of breaking even," Lee said.

The disaster situation is believed to be being sought in most southern Mississippi counties.

who intend to build a series of small shops in the area formerly occupied by the C&S Grocery (Carter and Seafide), and we have been informed of additional intentions to refurbish the fronts of those businesses facing the depot.

"This strip of our Bay St. Louis is one of the most historic, and correctly themed it could well become a showplace and a tourist attraction."

Bennett expounded on his view by saying such a proposition would prove of benefit in attracting the Amtrak Service to Bay St. Louis and the Gulf Coast, by offering a clean, well maintained station and grounds for prospective passengers.

"Our project would help with rail ticket sales, and certainly encourage the utilization of the passenger service once it is inaugurated," Bennett added, again in reference to Amtrak.

The mayor said should the project get off he will begin advertising for summer help among college students this winter, in an effort to attract those intending to be graduated in horticulture, design, art, architecture, and other areas of the construction and decoration industries, as well as for the more locally obtainable general labor.

"In this way we can utilize government money available for summer student employment to its best advantage, have the students assigned and selected to the project recruited well in advance, and above all encourage our college students to spend their summer here."

"It is my hope that they will provide the expertise necessary to produce good design and development, as well as provide the necessary construction force."

"We need to develop a community spirit and this is one project I hope will do more than its share."

The mayor also spoke on the feasibility of converting some other earmarked buildings into community centers and the like, and of the possibility of extending arts and crafts, and related programs into their midst.

"The people of this city have told me they wish to become involved and I am trying to bring ways and means to bear within our limited budget to provide for this expression."

"I feel our community spirit would receive a great lift through this railroad park project. It has been successfully accomplished elsewhere and we intend to try here," he concluded.

Lott endorses...

fect of the bill would be to increase the amount and availability of the credit to a point comparable with Social Security.

"This legislation would extend the principle of roughly equivalent tax treatment to all older Americans," Lott said.

More than 90 percent of the nation's elderly citizens receive Social Security benefits, he said. But because Social Security payments are tax-free, recipients enjoy a substantial tax advantage over those who do not receive Social Security.

LOTT SAID THE BILL, H.R. 8818, would raise the maximum base figure on which the credit is computed from $2,500 to $3,000 for single persons and from $3,750 to $4,500 for couples filing jointly. A taxpayer qualifying for the maximum credit would realize an additional tax saving of $75 over the previous year.

The legislation would also tie maximum base figure to the cost-of-living index, removing the necessity of annual congressional approval.

The legislation would also tie maximum base figure to the cost-of-living index, removing the necessity of annual congressional updating, he said. Another feature of the bill is the elimination of the current "means test" which phases out the credit for individuals whose adjusted gross income exceeds $7,500 and couples whose adjusted gross income exceeds $10,000. This provision would help protect savings and investments of many elderly Americans.

PANAMA TREATY

"After a briefing at the White House this morning by President Carter, General George Brown, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and others, I am not convinced of the need for the Panama Canal treaties at this time. I raised the question this morning with the President as to what obligations and responsibilities are being assumed by the nations of Central and South America relative to the Panama Canal."

"I am convinced that there are several angles of the proposed treaties which demand further scrutiny by the Congress. In this regard, I plan to conduct Senate Armed Services Committee hearings on the military implications and other related matters at the proper time. Of course, there has been no time set for these hearings as of yet and I doubt that the treaties will be taken up for Senate debate before next January."

Junior's 22 unanswered points
LITTLE HAWK- Jeff Favre doesn't worry about the Giants surrounding him on the Hancock North Central bench. Being the littlest Hawk on the field makes head coach Irvin Favre's son as proud as he can be. Three-year-old Jeffrey has only one problem according to his dad. "We can't keep him off the field."

Thursday came from freshman running back Ricky Johnson. Johnson scored two touchdowns for the Tigers with runs of 26 and 12 yards in the first and second quarters.
Alex Harrington scored the final TD of the night with a 65 yard interception return.
Conversions were added by Bay junior quarterback
Tyrone Lewis and fullback
Kenneth Morgan.
Head coach James Smith credited the Hancock team for a good contest in the mud pit of the Bay High stadium.
"Hancock played an excellent game. They put forth a good effort. They gave us some good, hard knocks."
One of the hardest knocks of the game was against Morgan. The ninth grader went out of the game in the first quarter with a knee injury after scoring a conversion for the Tigers.
"Kenny has been doing a fine job for us and it's going to hurt to lose him," added
Smith.
Morgan went both ways for the Bay Jr. High team doing defensive end duties as well as his fullback job.
The Bay team defense is still "together" according to Smith after not allowing a Hancock score. Smith also had praise for his offensive unit.
"We got a real good performance from our offensive line," said Smith.
Smith mentioned center
Mark D. Smith, guards Mike Fitzgerald and Melvin Barnes, tackles James Sone and Jeffery Smith and tight ends
Tommy Godwin and Bobby Waterman as offensive standouts.
"Our line did some excellent blocking to let the backs out," added Smith.
The junior high team will get its next test against Pass Christian when they take on the Tigers at 7:30 at the Bay High Field Thursday.

Hawks sharpen beaks, peck Tigers 17-0

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Hancock North Central defeated the Bay High Tigers Friday night 17-0 before a capacity crowd in Hawk stadium.
The hard fought game was played on a water soaked field. A heavy shower preceded the game, by kickoff time the sky began to clear, fans remained dry while players were wet after a few plays.
The Hawks scored in the first quarter on their second possession in the game when quarterback Vincent Adams handed off to half back Denist Nelson who ran 78 yards to pay dirt, after being hit several times by Tiger defensive players, but kept breaking tackles. Nelson added two more points on the conversion by a pass from

Adams to put the Hawks on top 8-0.
The Hawks scored after Bay High's kickoff in the third quarter on a sustained drive of 61 yards, with quarterback Adams sneaking in from the one. A try for two on the conversion failed as the Tigers got Adams on a keeper. On the scoring drive the Hawks racked up five first downs.
Early in the fourth quarter
Hawks Rocky Cuevas added three more points on a 15 yard field goal which put North Central in the lead 17-0.
The tiger defense was strong in the first half, other than the long score by Nelson they allowed the Hawks only one first down which came on the next to last play in the second quarter.

The Tigers were able to move the ball in the first quarter for two consecutive first downs to the Hawk 25 before a yard loss on second down play and two incomplete passes forced them to turn the ball over to the Hawks on their 26 on downs.
Bay High was leading North Central in first downs at the half five to one but were trailing in score 8-0. The second half ended with the Hawks in possession at mid field.
In the second half the Hawks dominated the game in first downs 12 to one for the Tigers.
The game big ground gainer for the Hawks was half back Nelson with quarterback
Adams making some nice clutch gains on keepers and half back Greg Lajner, also churning for some tough yards.
Fullback Roy Shubert and running back James Coe were the leading ground gainers for the Tigers.
The Hawks defensive star in the second half was Pat Necaise who made two pass interceptions. The first lead to the final points of the game which was the field goal, in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter Necaise stole another pass on the Bay High's 47 yard line.
The Tigers only earned first down in the second half came on a pass from quarterback
Dwayne LaFontaine to end
Scott Thomas.
The game ended with the ball in Hawk possession.
Time for the game was kept on the field by the time keeper as the Hawks clock was struck by lightning during a thunderstorm this week. Through the game fans were unable to see how much time was remaining.
Coach Irvin Favre's Hawks, now 3-0 for the season, have an open date next week and entertain the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws on Sept. 30 at Hawk stadium.
Coach Billy Rhodes' Tigers
1-2 for the season will face

Pass Christian next week in the Pirate's stadium.

One system for all seasons

The electric heat pump is a single heating and cooling system that automatically keeps your home comfortable as the outside weather changes. It is truly one system for all seasons.
The heat pump is so energy efficient that it delivers two units of heat for each unit of electricity it uses. That's why it is the only comfort conditioning system efficient enough to meet requirements for the E3 Home.
The heat pump is clean, easy to install, reliable and will save money on your energy bills.
If you are building or if your present heating and cooling system needs replacing, get the facts on the energy-saving, money-saving electric heat pump from Mississippi Power.

HERE'S HOW THE HEAT PUMP WORKS

In the winter, the heat pump moves heat from the outside (yes, there's heat even in the coldest air) inside to warm your home.

In the summer, the heat pump cools your home by automatically reversing the process, removing heat from inside your home to the outside.

Bernheim paces Stanislaus win

by RANDY LANKFORD
GULFPORT: Junior quarterback Peter Bernheim paced the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws to their first win against one tie Friday with a 35-6 football victory over the Eagles of St. John here Friday.

Bernheim's passing accounted for three of the St. Stanislaus touchdowns in the game. On the receiving end of all three was wide receiver Jay Rousseau.

Runningback Bill Kergosien accounted for the first two Stanislaus scores with runs of eight and 62 yards. Bernheim then hit Rousseau with a 43 yard strike to put the Rock-a-Chaws up 21-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Neither team got on the board again until the third quarter when Bernheim hit Rousseau from 30 yards out. The final Rock-a-Chaw score came on a 57 yarder by Bernheim to Rousseau.

Charlie Armata handled the kicking chores for the Rocks and hit on five of five.

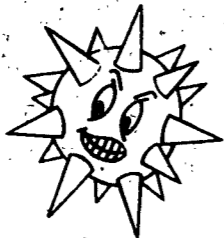

The St. John team put together its first threat in the second quarter when Dean Stringer lined up from 42 yards away to try a field goal. Stringers attempt fell just short to keep the Eagles off the scoreboard until late in the fourth quarter.

Fullback John Papania put St. John on the board with a four yard plunge with just 1:07 left in the game. Stringer's kick was blocked and the Eagles settled for six points for the night.

St. Stanislaus will play Notre Dame next week at home while St. John travels to East Central.

statistics as well. The Rock-a-Chaws ran for 208 yards while limiting the Eagles to 160. Bernheim completed six of 15 passes for 169 yards while St. John quarterback Karl Funk missed all eight of his attempts. Scott-Senner handled the punting duties for the Rock-a-Chaws and averaged 36 yards on four kicks.

Seniors offered prizes in Century III program

Seniors from Our Lady's Academy High School are buckling down to take full advantage of an opportunity to win local, state, and national awards by demonstrating their awareness, concern, and knowledgeability about the needs and challenges that are expected to face the nation in the future.

One enterprising high school senior in the nation will win a $10,000 scholarship as the top national prize in the Century III Leaders' Scholarship Program. Two students from each state and the District of Columbia will win $1,000 scholarships and the opportunity to talk with national leaders in a conference at historic Colonial Williamsburg, Va. And, before the national winner is announced in Williamsburg, nine finalists will have earned $500 awards on top of their $1,000 scholarships.

"We feel the program is very worthwhile for reasons in addition to the scholarships and the Williamsburg trip," said Msgr. Gregory Johnson, principal of the school. "We are encouraging seniors to participate because the Century III competition is a fine way for youngsters to become more involved with the community and social issues."

According to Msgr. Johnson, the Century III Leaders' Scholarship Program is a national future studies, writing, citizenship, and current events awareness competition open to high school seniors. Basically, the competition involves undergoing a current events examination and writing a brief essay outlining what the entrant thinks is a particular issue that America is likely to confront in the future and how such a challenge should be met.

The Century III program, which offers $10,000 in scholarships, is administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and funded by the Shell Oil Company.

PP&K registration

Registrations for the 1977 Punt, Pass & Kick competition sponsored locally by Charlie Henderson Ford continue to roll in. The contest is open to any youngster 8 through 13 years of age.

Any youngster meeting the age requirements who can punt, pass and kick a football or who like to try will want to compete. Participants compete only against others their own age, and there is no body contact.

No special equipment is needed and participation does not impair a youngster's amateur standing. Each youngster will compete in three categories—punting, passing, and kicking. Judges will score one point for each foot the ball travels on the fly, minus one point for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of the center tape.

Youngsters, accompanied by a parent or guardian, may register for PP&K at any participating Ford Dealer. There is no entrance fee.

D'Iberville edges Pass

The Pass Christian Pirates suffered their first loss in three football outings Friday night, falling 16-12 to the D'Iberville Warriors.

control of the game with the first touchdown coming on a four yard run by quarterback Reggie Collier to cap a 57 yard drive. Timmy Brooks converted for the Warriors to Brooks again handled the conversion to give the D'Iberville team a 14-0 margin at the half.

D'Iberville threatened again in the third quarter when Gerald Carlisle recovered a Pass Christian fumble at the Pirates' six yard line. Collier moved the ball to the one only to fumble on the next play and put the Pirates back on offense.

Quarterback Virgil Swanier moved the ball to the five to give the Pirates some breathing room. On the next play Swanier pitched to running back Loni Jenkins. Tommy McAdams made short work of the Pass running back and collected a safety for D'Iberville with a tackle in the end zone to raise the D'Iberville lead to 16-0.

On the first play after the Pass Christian free kick, Rusty Fountain fumbled for the Warriors and Pass Christian recovered on their 43. On first down Swanier pitched out to Malcolm Dedeaux. Instead of tucking the ball away and breaking up field, Dedeaux set up and threw the only touchdown pass of the game. The Pass Christian running back found split end Robert Baily open and connected for a 57 yard scoring strike. Kevin Gallagher missed on the extra point and the Pirates trailed 16-6.

Pass Christian's only other score came as the result of another D'Iberville turnover when the Pirates recovered a fumble at the 35.

Seven plays later Edwin Martin slammed into the end zone from one yard out for the Pirates final score of the night.

The Pass team will host the Bay High Tigers Friday in another conference game while D'Iberville hosts Harrison Central.

Pirates

The fumble-filled loss dropped the Pass team to 2-1 while D'Iberville rolled to a 3-0 record for the young season. The contest was generally considered the most important in the Pascagoula River Conference as the Warriors and Pirates had been preseason favorites to finish one and two in the conference race.

D'Iberville took early make the score 7-0 early in the first quarter. Early in the second quarter came the first of four fumbles the Pass team would lose. The Pirates tallied seven miscues in the game. Collier snagged the loose ball to set the D'Iberville team at the Pass Christian 34.

Collier again did the scoring honors nine plays later when he went in from the one.

Marine Concrete products steers expansion program

Cooperating with one of Port Bienville's largest and fastest growing industries, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors this week authorized dredging operations at the company's plant site here to make way for a new dry docking facility.

When completed, the dry dock, also known as a "graving" dock, will be one of the first of its kind on the Gulf Coast between Mobile and New Orleans.

Marine Concrete Structures, Inc., received the okay from the supervisors to move some 40,000 cubic yards of dredged material from Lot 41 to Lots 42 and 43.

Dredging operations at the company's Port Bienville waterfront will provide the necessary depth to accommodate operation of the 155 foot by 330 foot dry dock.

Development of the new facility which is to be used by the company primarily for barge repair is contingent upon receipt of the necessary federal and state permits.

Also at the company's Port Bienville yard, huge stilted platforms, looking much like the skeletons of skyscrapers, are gradually taking shape under the careful guidance of A.J. Turner, senior production superintendent for the company.

Nearing its second year of operations in Mississippi, Marine Concrete is already becoming an important contributor to the offshore oil industry in the Gulf of Mexico.

The company is one of the largest tenants of Port Bienville, the ten-year-old industrial park located near the mouth of the Pearl River.

The company's principal product at this time is the "concrete gravity structure"—base platform for offshore oil operations—being developed in the plant here for such prestigious buyers as Atlantic-Richfield and Shell Oil Companies.

Upon completion, the concrete gravity structure towers some 60 feet above the floating barge on which it is fabricated. The steel barge is then sunk and the gravity structure floats on its own.

The structure's eventual destiny calls for a sinking of its own when it will rest on the ocean bottom somewhere in the Gulf.

Also being produced by the company at this time are pre-stressed concrete girders for the Louisiana Highway Department to be used in construction of bridges and overpasses in that state.

Turner said some 150 employees contribute to the company's efforts now underway at Port Bienville, with current estimates calling for an additional 50 workers to be added to the force by Christmas of this year.

Marine Concrete Structures generates a $23,000 weekly payroll at Port Bienville, Turner reported, which accounts for some $12,000 annually in payroll taxes paid to the state.

The company enjoys a ten-year moratorium on county taxes offered as an inducement to the company to locate here, the executive reported.

Turner feels the potential of Port Bienville is unlimited, but that its attractiveness to industry should be more aggressively promoted.

"I discovered Port Bienville while flying over the area on a fishing trip," Turner said.

MIXING PLANT—Marine Concrete Structures operates its own concrete mixing plant at its 65-acre plant site in Hancock County's Port Bienville industrial park where the company produces offshore oil drilling structures and giant girders for highway bridges and overpasses.

HIGH TENSION CABLES under 20,000 pounds of stress are inspected by Marine Concrete's Jim Bryant of Kenner, La., at the company's Port Bienville yard. The cables form the heart of pre-stressed girders to be used in highway bridge and overpass construction.

Mr. Gillmore, a registered gelding in the American Quarter Horse Association, has been listed as the first entry in this year's World Quarter Horse Championship being held in Oklahoma City. The horse, belonging to Robert Finger of Houston is currently the defending world champion.

The 1977 Louisiana teal season opened Saturday and will run through Sept. 25 according to J. Burton Angelle, secretary of Wildlife and Fisheries. The daily bag limit is four and the possession limit is eight.

"Teal season represent wise utilization of a waterfowl resource" by allowing the hunting of the transient ducks migrating early to Mexico, Central and South America," Angelle said. He urged sportsmen to hunt strictly by the law and avoid violations.

Fund established for injured boy

A fund for the benefit of David G. Chasez, 14, seriously injured in a highway accident, Aug. 19, has been established at the Hancock Bank.

DAVID G. CHASEZ

Chasez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Chasez of Rt. 3, Box 355 (Yazoo St., Shoreline Park), Bay St. Louis, was riding his bicycle on the shoulder of Highway 43 at the time of the incident, when a car reportedly forced over by the presence of another vehicle approaching in the opposite direction, hit the Casez boy.

A sophomore at Bay Senior High School, Chasez is a member of the Babe Ruth Baseball League, where he played as second baseman for a local team, and retains a keen interest in Little League, where he earned his baseball 'spurs.' His ambition is to play in major leagues.

One of three children, David has an elder sister and younger brother, while his father is employed as a carpenter.

The boy sustained breaks in both ankles and legs, and severe lacerations that caused loss of blood resulting in a transfusion requirement.

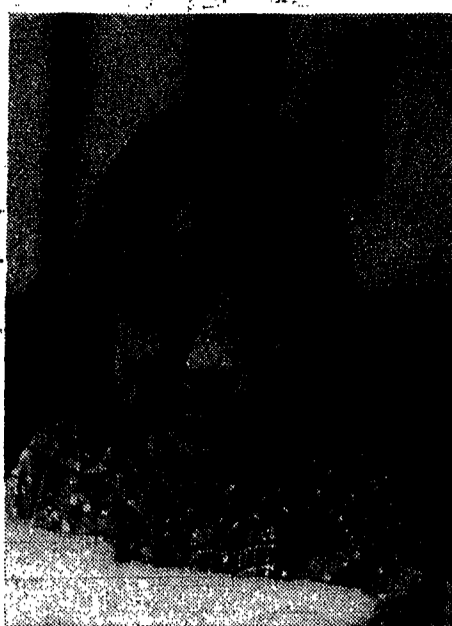

Already having undergone several surgical procedures, young Chasez faces further operation room action.

In addition to the injuries to the lower portion of his body, he sustained severe concussion, and a broken arm and shoulder.

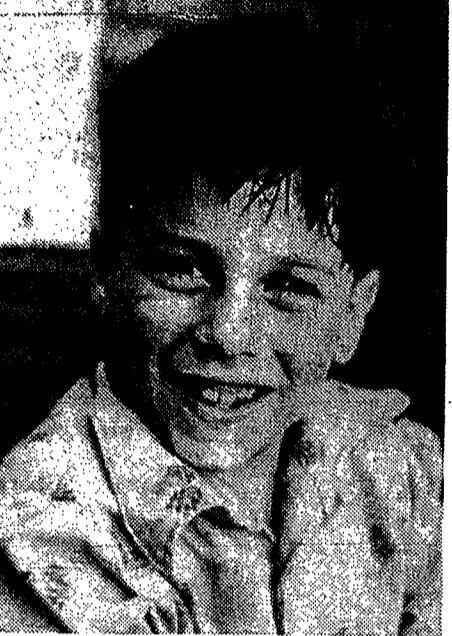

Donations may be mailed or taken to the Hancock Bank, David C. Chasez Fund, Hancock Bank, Main St. and Beach Blvd., Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520.

SPOT TREATMENT ON WEEDS

The Mississippi Division of Plant Industry has granted a state label for the herbicide Roundup for spot treatment for weed in soybeans, corn and sorghum.

Extension Agronomist, Dr. Wayne Houston says Roundup is restricted to spot treatment applicators. The state label does not include use of Roundup through a recirculating sprayer. An applicator must have a copy of the state label to legally use Roundup.

Contact your Extension office for details. FORAGE TESTING Knowing the nutritional value of your hay and silage will help you plan a better winter feed program. The Forage Testing Laboratory at Mississippi State University will analyze hay or silage samples.

Up to five samples per producer can be analyzed yearly without charge. This service basically puts a feed tag on homegrown hay and silage. Forage analysis shows digestibility, crude protein and fiber content. This information is necessary to balance a cattle ration.

Your county Extension office has equipment and information on taking forage samples.

TIMBER HARVEST Proper supervision of timber harvesting is often neglected by landowners. Selling timber is the most important management practice in forest life.

To prevent profit loss and tree damage, landowners should stay close to harvesting operation. Mark trees for cutting and know the market price of timber. Advertise timber for sale and have a written contract with the harvester.

SELECT GOOD HERD BULL Selecting a good herd bull is one of the most important jobs in a cattle production operation. The herd bull is the most important animal in the herd from reproductive, genetic and economic standpoints.

To get the best bull for your herd, select animals that have weaning weight, yearling weight and other performance information available. Use this information to select a herd bull with greater genetic potential.

PECAN CROP PROSPECTS

After a literal pecan famine in the state for the past several years, Mississippi pecan growers are back in business this year and consumers will again be able to buy new crop pecans from ample supplies at reasonable prices.

The Mississippi pecan harvest outlook published by the U. S. Crop Reporting Service pegs the state's 1977 crop at about 14 million pounds—ten times more than produced last year, over twice as many as harvested in '75 and nearly five times as many as in '74.

Yet, the '77 crop is nothing to brag about for it is only about half as many as produced in 1963 when state orchards produced a record crop of 30,400,000 pounds. And while we are out of the bragging business, let us

Scientists have termed the ability "pre-quake agitation" due to the number and frequency of reports concerning their odd behavior in animals prior to major quakes.

Home Economist's Notes

Whether it is meat, bread, fruit or vegetable— if it's deep fried, it has a crunch and savor not obtainable with any other preparation.

Chicken, hush peppers, fish, okra, turnovers—these are just a few of the deep fried favorites that have distinguished Southern food.

The South's tradition of deep frying goes back to colonial America necessity.

Deep frying was a more practical and easy method of cooking bread, for example, because fireplace ovens— if available— required long firing and large quantities of fuel.

Not a chore for a hot summer day, certainly. Even then, baking results were too often unpredictable. Rather than risk precious ingredients, the housewife would substitute less troublesome deep frying over which she had some measure of quality control.

Today, ingredients have been improved and are available in more convenient forms. However, deep-frying is still a favorite preparation method of many consumers and may be less expensive.

As its name implies, deep fat frying is cooking in enough hot oil to cover food completely. Shallow frying is another form of deep frying but it requires less fat, so the cooking may be done in a skillet. Shallow frying is used for such foods as fritters or doughnuts that rise and float on the surface of the fat as they cook. Both differ from pan frying which calls for only a small amount of fat.

Surprisingly, deep frying does not cook food by the sustained application of hot fat. True enough, the fat does carry heat to the food, but the food is cooked by steaming. When oil is hot enough, food plunged into it instantly seals. Internal steam is created and the force of the escaping gas prevents the fat from entering.

Unfortunately, this cooking principle is not generally understood and deep frying has fallen into disfavor as a cooking process as people seek to avoid calories and lower cholesterol intake in their diets. However, properly cooked deep fried foods do not absorb large amounts of fat. In fact, experiments have shown they actually absorb less fat than foods that are pan fried.

Deep fried foods taste best when fat absorption is held to a minimum. Meats and most vegetables or fruits have limited capacity to absorb fat. But the bread family—batters and doughs—has greater absorptive qualities and thus calls for more care in cooking. Fritters, doughnuts, turnovers and batter-coated meats, vegetables and fruits look, taste and digest best when according to precise procedures. The extra attention is well worth the results: a tender, moist interior and crisp, golden brown crust.

The fat you buy makes a difference in the quality of fried foods. Vegetable oil or shortening is recommended for deep frying because of its tendency to resist smoking and lack of a flavor of its own. Lard tends to flavor food. Butter and margarine have too low a smoking temperature to work well in deep fryers.

Homecoming plans in mill at Pearl River

Pearl River Junior College's annual homecoming has been set for Saturday, Oct. 15.

The traditional homecoming parade, featuring area bands, the 1977 PRC Homecoming

Court, campus clubs and organizations, and county, district and state dignitaries will begin forming at 1:30 p.m. in the west parking lot of the Dobbie Holden Stadium.

The actual parade through the streets of Poplarville will begin promptly at 3 p.m. A memorial service is also planned for 2 p.m. by graduates of the 1924 class. The service will honor the deceased members of the 1924 class and athletes and instructors of that year.

The Pearl River College Alumni Banquet is scheduled for the PRC Cafeteria at 6:15. Naming of the 1977 Alumnus of the Year will highlight the banquet. A person may join the Pearl River Alumni Association at the door.

Crowning of the 1977 PRC Queen and recognition of the court is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Dobbie Holden Stadium. Immediately following, the Pearl River College Wildcats will take on the East Central Warriors in an important south division contest.

At half time, the PRC band and String of Pearls will perform before the presentation of several Alumni awards.

For more information concerning the PRC parade, contact Al Brooks or D. R. Davis at 798-2288 or 798-4404.

A stitch in time produces reward

The story of the Bicentennial project of the Mississippi Extension Homemakers Council is now available in print. The book, "A stitch in Time," relates the background of the giant needlepoint map which traces Mississippi history to the present. The map, which measures 8 x 12 feet, was presented to the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service at the Council's annual meeting in June. It is displayed at the Extension Center at the Mississippi State University.

The map was designed to depict the rich heritage of Mississippi from 1763 B.C., the oldest dated archeological find when only Indians roamed the land, through the coming of the Spanish explorers, the French settling of the Gulf Coast area and the opening of the Natchez Trace, to the NASA facility for testing rocket boosters for space flights.

The map is a scale replica of the state with the Mississippi River on the west and the Gulf of Mexico to the south. A symbol of local event or product of importance is pictured on each county, along with the county's founding date. Hancock County has a rocket to recognize the test site.

The book, which sells for $3.00, tells much about the history of Mississippi. Along with the story of the map, it tells in words and pictures how the state bird, state flower, flag and coat-of-arms were established. One page is devoted to each county and contains the county design in color, a brief historical sketch and information on the person who did the needlepoint.

Copies are available from the local Extension Office. Come by our office at 405 Necaise Ave., Bay St. Louis or call 487-4456.
